ONE-SHEET · COUNTY CLARE, IRELAND

The Low Meadows

A four-piece from the west of County Clare playing their own songs on fiddle, mandolin, harmonium and bodhrán, in pubs, halls and the odd ferry.

BIOGRAPHY

The Low Meadows formed around a kitchen table in Kilfenora: Cathal on fiddle and guitar, Niamh on mandolin, Róisín on the harmonium she borrowed from her aunt and never gave back, and Declan on bodhrán and whatever else is lying around.

Salt on the Ferry, their second album, was recorded live over one weekend in a pub back room in Doolin and mixed at Tallow Room in Salford. They tour the west of Ireland every summer and play the folk clubs of Glasgow, Liverpool and London in winter.

PRESS

“Played like a session that forgot it was being recorded, which is the best thing we can say about a folk record.”
Half Door Folk

RELEASES

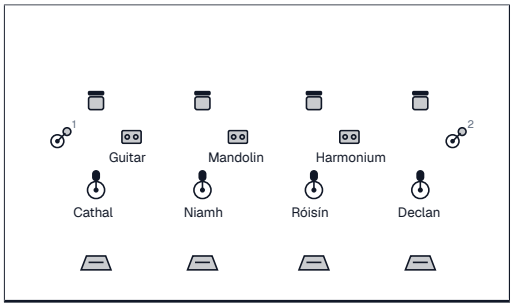

LM-002	Salt on the Ferry	2026
LM-001	Turf Smoke	2018

LIVE

29 Nov	Ennistymon The Quay Room
14 Dec	Liverpool Ropewalk Folk Club

TECH RIDER

4 x vocal mics, 2 x instrument mics
3 x DI (guitar, mandolin, harmonium pickup)
4 wedges
Chairs without arms for four

CONTACTS

Booking Declan Ryan
lowmeadows@example.com

FULL PRESS KIT, PHOTOS AND MUSIC
innersleeve.vercel.app/the-low-meadows/press